The INFELLIGENCES reporter was then allowed to make a statement in regard to the matter as published, which statement was substantiated by all the members of the committee.
'Squire Gillespy was called and asked whether or not there had been any reciept ound from the Sheriff to Deiters, covering the transaction of the Poor Farm sales, and said no such receipt could be found, but there was another receipt showing that the estate of R. S. Brown had vaid $1,808 42, balance due from the Sheriff to the county as entered in the financial statement of 1876 7. 1876 7. Mr. Joseph Speidel then read the follow

To the Board of Commissioners of Ohio County GENTLEMEN—Your Committee on Finance and Accounts respectfully report that we have had before us the report dated April 14, 1881, made to your Board, by R. H. Gillespy and Sam. Mathews, who were appointed to examine the books, papers and accounts of the Board. The examiners have also made to us their sub examiners have also made to us their subsequent reports, dated respectively April they seem to reflect considerably upon Mr.

your committee thought it proper to, and did afford him an opportunity by himself and by counsel, to examine into the matter mentioned in the reports, and furnish such

The Committee were in session upon several different days, and were attended by the Prosecuting Attorney and Mr. W. P. Hubbard, and also by Mr. E. G. Cracraft who was counsel for Deiters. Mr. Deiters binnel was present a part of the time. 'A number of persons were exampled and have controlled by the control of Delters himself was present a part of the time. 'A number of persons were examined, and a large quantity of documentary evidence was submitted to the Committee. The result of the examination and consideration given by the Committee to this matter is that the statements made in the several reports of the examiners appear to be fully warranted, except that it appears to the Committee from the weight of evidence that in the case of some of the road contractors, who by these reports were stated to have over-

The amount cannot now be stated, there being a number of contract cors and others whose accounts with the county have not been examined, but which it is believed will show a state of affairs similar to that which has been stated. The McLure and McLaiu Corners Com-paratively Free of Loafers Last Night-A Vast Improvement in that Section The Intelligeneen yesterday, in language both truthful and plain, called attention to a disgrace which has been a source of infinite annoyance to the ladies of Wheeling and to general pedestrians, i, e., the habit of many men to loaf on the principal corners. Those on Market street at Twelfth were noticed. There is at I weith were noticed. Inere is evidence that among the crowd used to gather there were individuals not lost to all sense of shame and the common rights of others; men, in fact, who read the papers and with enough sense to take a hint before the kick comes. Last night was an unusually favorable one to bring out the full force of street corner habiturs; the air was along, the payements clean, and air was balmy, the pavements clean, and quite a number of the fair sex was out for a quite a number of the fair sex was out for a promenade. And yet the New McLure House corner at half-past seven o'clock only held half a dozen "curbers," with three "leaners" under the verandah. Opposite, at McLain's, a gang of about eight huddled together, while a short distance below, circling around a telegraph pole were perhaps eight or ten. The agreement with Mr. Tingle by the parchase of his property, and sattlement for same, had been put in legal form during the work of the Commissioners was then declared vacant. Mr. Speidel by the board.

The directors have taken an admirable method of faciliating the work of the State Fair. The short time intervening and difficulties surrounding the holding of a first fair can be comparatively bridged over by the duties being apportioned out. This the Board has done as will be seen by the publication of the names below. They have been selected, with but few exexceptions—those on the Committee of Fine Arts, Flowers, etc.,—from the stockholders, by a special committee appointed for the purpose at a former meeting.

Certainly every one must feel a warm interest in the State Fair, and the duties required from these committees ought to be said the next business would be the election of a clerk. Mr. Stein moved that said election be postponed until the next meeting, but Mr. Armetrong objected, saying that the necessities of the Board and the

that the necessities of the Board and the office required the immediate election of a clerk. The President ruled Mr. Stein's motion out of order, and as Messra. The matter of the election of a clerk of he Board was again called up, objected to by some and favored by others. Mr. Arm strong was in favor of the immediate election of a Clerk "to have the affair over with." Mr. Schulize advocated its postponement for a month. It was finally put to a vote when, by 6 to 4, it was determined to elect when, by 6 to 4, it was determined to elect at once. Mr. Armstrong wished to vote by ballot, but this was objected to and nominations for clerk ordered. The applications of S. F. Faris, Jos. L. Wilde, J. L. Stroehlein were read by the President. Mr. B. F. Caldwell nominated Mr. J. E. Coen as "a young man of quexceptionable character, a good book-keeper, and has been a book-keeper for one of the largest manufacturing concerns in the city." Mr. Atkinson nominated W. H. Waddle as a "man well acquainted with the county business and competent." Mr. Carnshau read the application of A. Q. Eoff, Mr. Schultze named S. L. Mr. Quarrier said that the books were about three yoars back, and it had only been by great exertion that he had been able to bring up the books from last March to and keep up with his other work.

Considerable talk at random was indulged in concerning the matter of the expense, &c. Mr. Sam. Mathews, who has been employed at the office for several months back, said he would accept the position at $60 per month.

Mr. Atkinson named Taylor Foreman, Mr. Garnahan, J. W. Wait and Mr. Stein, John R. Miller. On the sixth ballot, Mr. Foreman received the votes of Messra.
